Internet Surfing, Music, Art, Coding

During my leisure, I love to go online and find answers to all the puzzling questions on my mind, the never ending ones. I'm a curious person, moderately though, but I love to learn new things all the time. I am a bass player and an artist, I love music and art because they are really amazing ways of giving expression to how you feel inside its also calming as well and it broadens your view of the world when you research art and music of other cultures. Finally, I really love coding, I've been coding for over 6 years now, but nothing really serious, I picked up c# at some point and then mobile development with flutter and dart. My love for programming finally pushed me to turn it into a career path and I started taking it seriously since early 2021 watching tutorials and attending trainings, so here I am.
